

Data types → define the kind/type of value and store only a single value per variable.

Data structures → define how values are organized and store multiple values per variable.